

Health and Safety Policy Statement

Power Plant Training Ltd (PPTL) that all accidents and instances of occupational ill health are preventable. PPTL are committed to ensuring that the health, safety and welfare of our employees, learners, course delegates and others who come onto sites under our control are protected. Health and safety is a high priority and a fundamental value of the company and we aim for best practice in all aspects of our health and safety performance.

We acknowledge our responsibilities to young or inexperienced learners and support the 'safe learner' concept. We will work with employers to ensure that the learning environment they provide is both healthy and safe.

All members of staff are required to lead by example. PPTL hold them personally accountable for ensuring that this policy is put into effect in their areas of control. The implementation of the company's health and safety policy is achieved through company management instructions and is an essential part of the director's responsibilities. These instructions contain the detailed organisation and arrangements for implementing this policy.

Employees have a vital role to play, and we will provide appropriate training and information to ensure they can make a full contribution. They will be involved in the development of systems designed to protect their health and safety and the health and safety of others.
